

An Introduction to TBRI®

Trust-Based Relational Intervention®

Take away real applicable parenting tools

WHAT IS TBRI®?

TBRI® is an attachment-based, trauma-informed intervention designed to meet the complex needs of vulnerable children or children who have experienced trauma, neglect or abuse. TBRI® addresses the child's physical needs, attachment needs, and tools to disarm fear-based behaviors. TBRI is based on years of attachment, sensory processing, and neuroscience research.

The TBRI® Overview Class is a glimpse into the three TBRI® PRINCIPLES

1. Connection—attention to attachment needs
2. Empowerment—attention to physical needs
3. Correction—attention to behavioral needs

TBRI® TRAINERS

TBRI trainers are selected to attend an intensive TBRI® Practitioner training program at the Karyn Purvis Institute for Child Development. Becky Marquez completed training in 2017.

LEARN REAL APPLICABLE TOOLS TO HELP HURT CHILDREN HEAL

Reserve your spot by calling 208-939-3865 or email admin@adoptanewbeginning.org

"The TBRI training was incredibly helpful. As both a teacher and future parent, it gave me a better understanding of what a child going through trauma can/will struggle with in their life. The focus on usable tools & examples was especially strong, as it was grounded in practical strategies."

~an adoptive parent

RESERVE YOUR SEAT TODAY

TBRI® Overview
Saturday, June 1, 2019
9 am - 4 pm

$30/person or $50/couple
includes materials and snacks,
lunch on your own

Reserve your seat
admin@adoptanewbeginning.org
invoice will follow RSVP

[Becky Marquez, Counselor
LPC, MA, MFTI, TBRI Practitioner](#)